

Doctor of Occupational Therapy

The UT Health San Antonio Doctor of Occupational Therapy program is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Occupational Therapy Education (ACOTE). ACOTE requires programs to submit all documentation, including institutional accreditation, via its Online eAccreditation system (<https://acote.aota.org/login>).

The landing page of the accreditation system, shown below, houses all program documents that are submitted electronically as the program self-study.

The language for ACOTE Standard A.1.1 relates to institutional accreditation, and the most recent program response is included below.

Question 1. 2018 Standard A.1.1. Institutional Accreditation

▼ Standard

The sponsoring institution(s) and affiliates, if any, must be accredited by an institutional accrediting agency recognized by the U.S. Department of Education (USDE). For programs in countries other than the United States, ACOTE will determine an equivalent external review process.
